LAKHIMPUR DISTRICT

The name Lakhimpur is believed to be originated from the word Lakshmi, the goddess of prosperity. The district is mainly dependent upon agriculture and paddy. Paddy is regarded locally as Lakhimi. The word pur means full. Lakhimpur therefore means full of paddy or the place where paddies are grown abundantly. Besides, the soil of the district is alluvial and fertile for which crops flourish without use of any artificial manure or hard labour. Over and above fish, meat, vegetables, milk were abundant in this district. Others say that the word originated from Lakhsmi Devi, the mother of Bhuyan Raja who was the descendent of King Arimatta.

Formation of District :

As per Lakhimpur District Gazette (1976:4) , the district was notified as Lakhimpur District through a proclamation issued by then Governor General on July, 1839. On 2nd October, 1971 the district was reorganized with two sub divisions viz. Dhemaji and North Lakhimpur . Later it was again reorganized in the year 1989 with two subdivisions viz. Dhakuakhana and North Lakhimpur leaving Dhemaji as a separate district. The district was earlier regarded as " Koliapani" because there was practically no road communication to this district till 1950. In the year 1954, the temporary aerodrome was started. From 1957 the ASTC buses started plying from Lakhimpur and from 1963 the North East Frontier Railway started train services from this district.

Area and Population :

The District covers an area of 2277 Sqkm out of which 2257 Sqkm is rural and 20 sqkm is urban. The Population as per Census of India, paper 1 of 2011 is as follows,

Total	Male	Female
1042137	529674	512463

Location & Boundary : Lakhimpur District is situated on the North East corner of Assam and at the north bank of the River Brahmaputra. The district lies between 26o48' and 27o53' Northern latitude and 93o42' and 94o20' East longitude (approx.)

It is bounded on the north by Siang and Papumpare District of Arunachal Pradesh and on the east by Dhemaji District and Subansiri river. The river Brahmaputra along with Majuli District stands on the southern side and Gahpur sub division of Biswanath District is on the West.

Sub divisions & Police Stations : The district is divided into two sub divisions viz. North Lakhimpur and Dhakuakhana. North Lakhimpur Sub-division consists of 4 Police stations viz. North Lakhimpur, Boginadi, Laluk and Bihpuria. Dhakuakhana Sub Division consists of two Police stations viz. Dhakuakhana and Ghilamara.

Municipal Boards : There are 4 (four) numbers of ULBs in Lakhimpur district namely 1. North Lakhimpur Municipal Board, Bihpuria Municipal Board, Dhakuakhana Municipal Board and Narayanpur Municipal Board.

Forests : Forests of the district are mainly tropical rain forest. The important reserved forests of the district are Ranga Reserve, Kakoi Reserve, Dulung Reserve and Pava Reserve . The varieties of tree species grown in the forest area are Hollock (Terminalia Myriocarpa) , Urium (Bichotia Jauvanica), Nahar (Mesua Ferrea), Ajhar (lagerstroemia speciosa), Simolu (Bombax ceiba/Salmalia Malabarica), Sum (Machilus), Sualu , Gomari (gmelina orborea), Sissoo (Dalbergia Sissoo), Jutuli (Altingia excelsa), Silikha (Terminalia Chebula), Neem (Azadirachta Indica), Sopa (Magnolia) etc.

Rivers :

1. The Brahmaputra : The mighty river Brahmaputra is the southern boundary of the district and it touches all along the southern and southeastern boundary.

2. The Subansiri : The river Subansiri is originated from Tibet and enters the plains of Lakhimpur and Dhemaji district. The total length of the river is 326 miles up to the international boarder. The catchments area of the river is 10,148 Sqmiles in Arunachal Pradesh and 440 SqMiles in Assam. The river discharges 2,09,546 Cusecs of water at Bhimpara Ghat.

3. The Ranganadi : The river originates from the Dafla hills of Arunachal Pradesh. The total length of the river is 90 miles and total catchments area is 839 Sqmiles in Arunachal Pradesh and 296 Sqmiles in Assam. It discharges 17,500 cusecs of water at 2 miles up stream of National Highway–15 (Old-NH-52).

4. The Dikrong : The Dikrong originates from the Dafla Hills of Arunachal Pradesh. In Arunachal Pradesh, it is known as Par Nadi. It enters the plains near Harmutty Tea Estate and runs 25 miles to join the Brahmaputra at Badati. It discharges 20,000 cusecs of water at 1 mile down stream of National Highway-52. The catchments area of the river is 512 Sqmiles in Arunachal Pradesh and 101 Sqmiles in Assam.

Minerals :

The river Subansiri has legends of gold washing, but now there is no major exploration of minerals in this district. There is now only some minor exploration for petroleum by ONGC in Dhakuakhana Sub-division

Fauna :

With the increase of human population and large-scale deforestation of existing forest, the wild animal of various species are dwindling due to loss of habitat etc. Presently wild elephants, buffaloes, tigers, deer, wild cat, jackal are seen in the forest area. Varieties of bird species are available in swampy areas. Many migratory birds come every year to the various part of the District.

The District Environment Plan for Lakhimpur district covers the following thematic areas as mentioned in the model District Environment Plan published by CPCB.

1. A) Solid Waste Management

   B) Plastic Waste Management

   C) Construction and Demolition Waste (C&D)

   D) Bio-medical Waste Management

   E) Hazardous Waste Management

   F) E-waste Management

2. Water Quality Management Plan
3. Domestic Sewage Management Plan
4. Industrial Wastewater Management Plan
5. Air Quality Management Plan
6. Mining Activity Management plan
7. Noise Pollution Management Plan

1. A) Solid Waste Management

The Ministry of Environment, Forest and Climate Change, Government of India has notified the Solid Waste Management Rules, 2016. As per the Rules, the role of local body has been specified as per Rule 15 of Solid Waste Management Rules, 2016 and as per Rule 16 of the said Rules, State Pollution Control Board shall enforce these Rules through local bodies.

Regarding implementation of Solid Waste Management Rules, 2016 the extracts of the provisions of Rule 11 (h,k,l,m) and Rule 13, 15 and 20 pertaining to P&RD Dept. had been shared with the BDOs, Municipal Bodies through PD, DRDA.

Town and Country Planning and Municipal Bodies have been directed to ensure separate space for segregation; storage decentralized processing of solid waste as per specification.

As per Hon'ble NGT order dated 15.07.2019 in 0.A. No. 710-713/2017, the detailed guidelines to be followed in respect of Solid Waste Management Rules, 2016 are illustrated below:
